CLOSE OF A SUCCESSFUL BENCH SHOW. LARGE ATTENDANCE ON THE LAST DAY-THE ANI-MALS GLAD TO BE RELEASED.

LARGE ATTENDANCE ON THE LAST DAY—THE ANIMALS GLAD TO BE RELEASED.

The pleasant weather yesterday, and the fact that the shower in the evening did not begin until late, made the attendance at the last day of the dog show large, and so increased the receipts that the Westminster Kennel Club will lose nothing by the show. The crowd was greatest in the evening and, in some of the alleys, was so dense that it was impossible to move about except at a deliberate pace. The judging of the pures was of great interest to the many ladies present. The luttle snub-nosed animals were carried into the ring in many cases by their owners, who held them tenderly while the cruel judge criticised. A large number of special prizes were awarded in the afternoon in addition to the regular prizes. The dogs have stood their four days confinement well, although, last night, many of them acted as if they were getting tired of the show business and did not wish to be considered as curiosities any longer. The collies had a look in their intelligent, expressive eyes as if they would give all the silver mugs and blue ribbons in front of their kennels for one good run on the hillside again. The St. Bernards went to sleep and dreamed of the exploits of their race on Alpine heights. The huge mastiffs wanted to shake hands with everyone, and the bull-dogs set themselves to work to collect pieces for a "crazy" quilt out of the clothing of the passers-by. As for the dogs, they were happy in their gorgeous kennels, and did not seeem to care if the show lasted a week.

The owners of some of the dogs took them from heir kennels and led them about last evening, and it was a common thing suddenly to be confronted by a huge mastiff, or St. Bernard, leading a man flown an alley; or to feel a soft bundle of fur tanging itself up with ones feet and, on looking down, to discover a skye or a poodle. There was a crowd in front of the kennels of all the prizes while they told of the prowess of their chargef in the field. People came carrier and stayed later th prizes, besides a long list of special prizes, were awarded:

Champion Pug dors: medal to Roderick, owned by M. H. Cryer, of Philadelphia. Champion Pug bitenes: medal to Effic, owned by W. R. Kinglit, of Philadelphia. Pug dogs; first prize to N. M. Cryer's Max. Champion Yorkshire terriers, over five pounds: medal to Hero, owned by Mrs. H. A. Kisterman, of this city. Yorkshire terriers, over five pounds; first prize to Lancashire Star, owned by H. A. Kisterman, of this city. Champion Yorkshire terriers, under five pounds; first prize to Citeket, same owner. Yorkshire terriers under five pounds; first prize to Spring, same owner. Fay terriers, other than Yorkshire, under seven pounds; first prize to John Power's Dalsy. King Charles spaniels; first prize to John Hammond's Charley. Blenheim spaniels, first prize to Sir Guy, owned by Miss Gertrade Gibert, of this city. Miscellaneous chas, over twenty-five pounds, net specified in new other classification; first prize to George A. Saportas's Judge. For the same class under twenty-five pounds, W. Thomas's Clice Foo, a dog brought from the South Paelife Islands.

Some of the dogs were taken away by their owners.

Some of the dogs were taken away by their owners at the close of the show last night, and the rest will be removed to-day. ROBBED BY A CLERGYMAN'S DAUGHTER.

The Young Women's Christian Association has an employment bureau for the assistance of worthy women. Early in March a neatly dressed and well-educated young woman entered the office of the association and said that she desired to secure a position as seamstress. She gave her name as Mrs. Catharine H. Caldwell, of No. 122 East Twenty-fourth-st., and said that her husband was a clerk in a down-town lawyer's office. The recommendations which she produced were of a flattering character, and she said that she was the daughter of a Presbyterian elergyman. On March 20, Mrs A. P. Montant, No. 39 West Twenty-first-st., engaged her. A few days after the woman had gone, Mrs. Montant, in looking over her dressing-case, found that several articles were missing among them a gold bracelet and thimble valued at $100. She suspected Mrs. Caldwell and informed the police. Detective Frice was detailed to the case, and to him Mrs. Caldwell admitted that she had taken the articles, being compelled to do so by her husband. Yesterday he arrested Caldwell and his wife.

Mrs. Montant stated that among other articles which had been stolen from her room were a goldmounted diamond ring set with rubies and sapphires, valued at $500, and a diamond pin valued at $145. In Mrs. Caldwell's apartments a number of silk dresses and wraps were found which are supposed to have been stolen.

MR. SECOR'S VIEWS OF THE "RING."

The residents and taxpayers of College Point, L.
L. are considerably exercised over the exposure of the tactics of the alleged "ring" in shielding certain persons from their payment of taxes, which has just been made public by Trustee William H. Secor.
The Taxpayers Association are making arrangements to give Mr. Secor a reception. Some of the residents have offered to subscribe to a fund, so that Mr. Secor can carry the matter into the coarts and thoroughly investigate the alleged system of fraud, but he declined the proposed assistance. Mr. Secor said last evening one of his charges was that the gas company paid no taxes on its capital stock and gas pipes which run through the village. It is owned by the India Rubber Comb Company, which is owned and superintended by two of his colleagues in the Board of Trustees. Another charge is that none of the wealthy residents pays a cent of personal tax. He says that there are between seventy-five and and a hundred residents who should pay a personal tax, but there are only two that have done so. There has only been $150 received for taxes of personal property, while a rough estimate would show that at least $7,500 ought to be received from that source.

Police Justice Edward Beiderlinden has been appointed clerk to the Board of Trustees, in place of Thomas Daley, deceased. MR. SECOR'S VIEWS OF THE "RING."

TROUBLE CAUSED BY FALSE TEETH. Mary Monteith said in the Yorkville Court yes-terday that her husband neglected and abused her; also that there was a woman to whom he was a great deal kinder than he was to her. "I know who she is," she said. "How did you discover her identity?" asked Jus-

There was nothing unusual about that, though, but this time I searched his pockets and found a set of false teeth. I recognized the teeth the minute I set eyes on 'em. Of course he denied it, but I know her."

Justice Duffy suggested the possibility of a mistake and recommended mutual forgiveness and hand-shaking. The defendant at first refused, but changed his mind and shook hands, but did so so remetantly that Justice Duffy put him under bonds to provide for his wife.

HAPPY CITY GIRLS IN THE COUNTRY.

Abevy of sixteen langhing, fashionably dressed young ladies were alternately telling stories that provoked peals of mirth, or singing popular songs or solos while going up the bay to New-York City vesterday afternoon on a Staten Island ferry-boat. Each member of the party carried a neat wickerwork basket filled with fragrant white or blush-colored flowers, that grew on vines and had leaves that were as green and glossy as ivy. One of the girls said:

ONE OF DETECTIVE FULLER'S METHODS. ONE OF DETECTIVE FULLER'S METHODS.

Justices Smith and Kilbreth yesterday resumed then hearing of the case brought by Louisa Doray against James M. Fuller, manager of the Fuller Detective Agency, whom she seeks to have support her ten-year-old son, on the ground that he is the boy's father. The defence called Captain Williams, who said that he had known the woman for sixteen years, and regarded her as being a bad woman. Harry E. Moore, an actor attached to the McCaull Opera Troupe, stated that a week ago the complainant offered him $50 if he would give evidence tending to show that Fuller was the father of the child. He declined the offer. He had been in Fuller's employ and had frequently seen the boy about the office and at Fuffer's boarding-house. The Court announced that a decision would be given next week.

Miss Carrie V. Prentice, of No. 49 West Thirtyfirst-st., a bright looking young woman employed in an office in The Evening Post building, has been annoyed for several weeks by Clarence E. Young, aged twenty, a window washer at the Western Union Hotel, who persisted in sending her letters requesting ani nterview. He was taken before Justice White, yesterday, at the Jefferson Market Court. He gave no satisfactory excuse for his conduct and was sent to the Island for three months. He was also convicted of carrying a pistol without a permit.
For this offence he was given an additional three months in jail.

AN UNPROFITABLE RAG BABY. Lewis Francis, a ventriloquist, living at No. 15 St. John's Lane, was taken before Justice White at the Jefferson Market Court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by Lewis Sperry, of No.346 Seventh-ave. Francis held in his arms a big rag bab which he carries about as a talking dummy. Sperry stated that 'rancis collected a crowd in front of his store and would not move on when told to do so. While Sperry was telling his story the baby began to talk to the Justice, but was promptly choked off by a court officer. Francis was committed for three months.

Many of the well-known organ builders of the city were present, and among the friends and relatives of the family were Carles Tappen, Frederick S.Winston, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company; and President Henry Stokes, of the Manhattan Insurance Company. The Rev. Dr. Dix conducted the services, assisted by Canon Knowies, of Chicago, and the Rev. Messrs. Hull and Ayres. The pall-bearers were James Cottler, James Cumming, W. Mills and G. F. Gerard. The body was buried in Frinity Cemetery.

ADJUSTING INSURANCE RATES.

The most important rating organization that has ever existed among the fire insurance companies of New-York City is the New-York Tariff Association. The secretary of this association issued a printed report yesterday in which is given the history of the Association since its organization two years ago. At that time about as complete demoralization in the matter of rates existed in New-York City fire underwriting circles as is possible to imagine. In the last year the association has rated more than 350 distinct classes of risks, and its railings and rates are generally accepted by all companies doing business in New-York, whether board or non-board. The cash capital represented in the association is given by the secretary as $46,600,000, the assests $156,400,000 and the net cash surplus $49,600,000. The membership embraces more than $7 per cent of the entire fire insurance capital represented in the entire fire insurance capital represented in the efforts of the association are directed to provide just and adequate rates without imposing an unnecessary burden on any industry. Within a few months a scheme has been devised, and is now in successful operation, whereby the insurance rates are reduced to many merchants occupying first floors and basements, with a special hazard on the upper floors. The only action of the association that met with serious opposition was the rating of fibre warehouses, in which an effort was made to separate fibre storage stores from non-fibre storage sto

THE MAYOR'S CABINET OPPOSES BILLS.

Mayor Edson sat in his big arm-chair yesterday and presided at the meeting of his cabinet. There were present Controller Grant, Corporation Counsel Andrews, Street Commissioner Coleman, Dock Commis Andrews, Street Commissioner Coleman, Dock Commissioner Stark and Tax Commissioner Fetther. A resolution was passed in regard to Senate bill No. 355, relating to the Sinking Fund. The cabinet concurred in the views expressed by the Sinking Fund Commissioners and decided that should the bill become a law it would be injurious to the interests of the city. Hope was expressed that the Governor would exercise his right of veto. Mr. Grant offered a resolution to appoint some member of the cabinet to represent the city before the Governor, and the Controller was chosen for the duty. A resolution was also passed objecting to Senate bill No. 374, which provides for the removal of refuse from the streets and giving the franchise to the New-York Refuse Company. The objection was based on the ground that the naming of a corporation and giving rights to it in a law was unconstitutional.

In Sweden there is a law taking away the right of suffrage from every man who has been drunk three times. Such a law in this country would show a failing off of 50 per cent in the vote at the next election. And the Republican candidates would be elected by largely increased majorities.—[Norristown Herald.

TEMPERANCE WORK IN NEW-JERSEY. TEMPERANCE WORK IN NEW-JERSEY.

The Salem County Temperance Alliance has adopted resolutions declaring the license system, whether high or low, to be wrong in principle, giving as it does legal sanction to crime and taking a fee which is the price of blood, and that complete legal probibition is the goal of the Alliance, nothing less than this satisfying its members. The resolutions recommend political action and the publication of the names of all signers of applications for liquor because.

George W. Foy, a druggist of Hammondton, having been sonteneed to six months in the penitentiary for the illegal sale of liquor, requested the Temperance Alliance to petition to have the sentence remitted, in consideration of which he offered to give a bond of $5,000 that he would sell no more liquor in the town. The Alliance refused to interfere in the matter.

The liquor dealers of Rahway have felt the tidal wave started by Mabee and English, and some of them have said that they will not apply for another license. The Feform Club is negotiating for the lease of Washington Hotel, in which to hold their meetings; they would also have a free reading room, with a billiard room, eard tables, etc., but no gambling will be allowed.

AN OLD DEFALCATION FOUND IN NEWARK.

At the March meeting of the Common Council a resolution was passed for the appointment of experts to investigate the Street Improvement account which did not show what disposition had been made of the proceeds of $1,200,000 issued for a specific purpose. Last night a report submitted by the experts stated that the investigation had gone back to 1866, when the system of street improvement was begun. It was found that $250,000 of war bounty bonds to take up scripalready funded had been misappropriated and used for general expenses. It was further found that on July 31 there was a defalcation or forced balance on the treasurer's books, allowed by the auditor, of $10,949 60. The treasurer credited himself with having paid $106,503 90 on general warrants when the actual payments on the accounts, as shown by his own books and the auditor's ledger, were only $95,356 30. John W. Stout was treasurer in 1869. The report was referred to the City Council with instruction to prosecute the ex-treasurer and his bondsmen. AN OLD DEFALCATION FOUND IN NEWARK.

The race between the homing pigeons of Bridgeport, Conn., and E. O. Damon, Northampton, Mass., was flown yesterday. The Damon birds were liberated in this city at 7 a. m., although the conditions were altogether unfavorable. The Bridgeport birds were liberated in Philadelphia at 8:55 a. m., having been ordered held for favorable conditions. The first returns reported were to the left of C. A. H. Bright, Bride eport, two birds alighting together at 12:28½ p. m., entering the left at 12:30. Time out he wing. 213½ minutes; distance, 131 miles; average speed, 1,079 yards.

The next race will be on Thursday from Havrede Grace for Bridgeport, and Bordentown for Northampton; distance 164 miles.

PHILADELPHIA WINS AT CRICKET.

PHILADELPHIA WINS AT CRICKET.

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—A game of cricket was played here to-day between a picked team from New-York and Gentlemen of Philadelphia. The Philadelphia team was composed solely of those who will go to England to play against the various county and college elevens. Play bogan shortly after 11 o'clock, and by 1 p. m. the New-Yorkers who went in first were relired for 40 the only man making double flaures being Walker. Philadelphia was served about as summarily with 63 to her credit. In the next innum New-York made 48 a total of 97. Philadelphia sent Scott and C. A. Newnall to the bat to make the necessary 35 runs to win. Just here the play became interesting, and some leatner hunting was done, for both batsmen scored triples and fours in fine style and rapidly. Scott was finally caught for ten. R. S. Newhall joined his brother, and between them they ran the score to 35, winning the game by 1 run and 10 wickets.

MRS, GARRICK HAS ANOTHER GRIEVANCE.

Mrs. Catharine Garrack, the widow of Patrick Mrs. Catharine Garrack, the widow of Patrick Garrick, has carried on the coal business since her husband's death at No. 19 Roosevelt-st. She obtained some notoriety a few months ago by standing on a paying stone in front of her house in Lexington-ave, and rerusing to let some workmen place a telegraph pole there. Yesterday she advertised for a conference of those holding certificates in the Union Benefit League Club. To a Training reporter who called on her, Mrs. Garrick explained the advertisement as follows:

I am one of ten persons in a club insured in the Union Benefit League. One of our members unmed Fiston died last fail in South America. He was insured for $5,000, which should be divided among the other members of itclub. The League is about to be incorporated with the Home Benefit Insurance Company and we object to the Mrs. Cocks, of the Cocks-Reed suit, is secretary of the League.

THE CAMMACK-TAYLOR ENCOUNTER,

Though the Cammack-Taylor affair gave food for much gossip in down-town circles yesterlay, matters of weightler moment drove if from the united of all before midday. Neither of the contestants appeared in Wall street during the day. A member of a well-anown firm of brokers and a friend of Mr. Cammack said: "There has been but little talk to-day about the disagreeable affair, and there is not the least prospect that any further meeting will take place. Mr. Taylor was not himself when he insulted Mr. Cammack and when he thinks it over in cool blood I am sure he will hope to have the whole thing knowed and forgotten as soon as possible."

A friend of Mr. Taylor said: "I am sure Alec is sorrier than any one else this morning. He is a thoroughly good fellow and the last man in the world to harbor any ill feering when he knows he has been in the wroag. Take my word for it that nothing further will come of this." Though the Cammack-Taylor affair gave food At Mr. Taylor's house it was said that he was quite well and not confined to bed.

EX-JUDGE SHEA ON THE COMMON LAW.

Ex-Judge George Shea argued before the University Law School last evening that the genius of the common law is averse to formulas and codes. He attributed the excellence of the common law to the predecessors of Alfred the Great, and especially to Alfred the Wise, of Northumbria; end aversed that the foundation of the ancient Saxon law, which is the trunk from which our own common law has grown, was the law of Nature and the revealed law contained in the ancient Saxon law, which our the law of Nature and the revealed law contained in the ancient

THE FRAUD ISSUE BURIED FOREVER.

The fourth spring meeting of the Rockaway will be held to-day without postponement for bad weather, nniess it rains hard, when it will come off early next week. There is much interest in the Great Long Island steeplechase, for which a number of well known steeplechasers have been entered. E. D. Morgan enters his recent purchase from the Preakness Stable, the five-year-old Macbeth. Messrs. Lawrence & Coster the handleappers, have weighted him at 165 pounds. J. P. Dawes enters old Charlemagne, a great favorite, but he is weighted at 173 pounds, and if he is ridden by a professional lockey, he will get seven pounds more, which will make his weight 139 pounds. The same owner also enters Rose, who has to carry 157 pounds. George Work enters Vampire, a five-year-old. He is weighted at 148 pounds. George Sutcliffe has entered old Spider at 158 pounds. Phil Duffy's brown gelding, Major Wheeler, is within a pound of the same weight. Laurence Hart enters Buckeye, 143 pounds. These are the horses best known to the public, but there'are several thoroughbred hunters entered, and a large field will probably start. Thefecures is about two miles and a half, with post and rail fences, slut fences, turf banks, hedres, corn stalk bundles and a big water.

DIPHTHERIA.

THEY MOVED IN, BUT FOUND THE DISEASE AREAD OF THEM-HOW IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN PRE-

VENTED.

OF THEM—HOW IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN PREVENTED.

"I don't know how many hundreds more there are equally as foolish as the family I have just left," remarked one of our most careful doctors yesterday, "but this case of diplitheria is, to my mind, plainly attributable to the grossest disregard of commen sense, to say nothing about sanitary rules.

"The party I speak of noved a few days ago into this house, which, to all outward appearance, is as good as the average; but although they did not know anything about the habits of the family which had just moved out, they began putting down the carpets and otherwise making themselves at home, without thinking of the importnuce of first thoroughly purifying and disinfecting the rooms, and especially the closets, the drains and the celiar. The result was the same as "we so often meet with those who ignore disinfectants; this child is taken severely ill before they have been in the house a week."

"You don't pretend to say, doctor," we asked 'in surprise, "that the family moved into a dirty house and began living there without cleaning it, do you!"

"Not at all. They scrubbed and sweept and cleaned as much asjamybody; but the most important part—the disinfecting—they neglected."

"Well, dector, you will grantathat it asn't everybody who wants to perfume up their house with carbolic acid or chlorides of time the first day they move into it!"

"No! I shouldn't think they ever would; but there is certainly no necessity for that. There is a disinfectant said as Platt's Chlorides which is the thing to use. This is a colorless solution, entirely odorless, yet most powerfail and efficient; and although in my practice I nave many times given't most severe tests, it has never disappointed me. I believe that if these parties had sprinkled their rooms with it, had scattered it about the celiar, and thoroughly rinsed the waste-pipes and the water-closet with it, they would not have had this serious trouble. I believe, also, that if a little of it were poured in the drain-

cease to be.

"At any rate, the benefits arising from the use of Platt's Chlorides are, according to my experience, most positive, and I can't understand why it is there are so many sensible and careful people who still persist in taking their chances against serious lilness when this most valuable preparation can be obtained at such slight cost." ing their canacas against serious librars which the valuable preparation can be obtained at such slight cost."

Hisstily stepping into his carriage, the doctor was soon lost to sight, but the idea of household disinfection he had promulgated made such an impression that we concluded to follow the matter a little further, and to this end we called upon the corner druggist to obtain his views.

To the question, Do your customers seem to realize the importance of using disinfectants 4 and, if so, what is the distinctant in demand 4 the genial apothecary replied:

"The doctors have been hammering away at this idea for the past three years, and of late it seems to have taken decided effect. We now sell of Platt's Chlorides, for this is the article the doctors always order, twenty bottles where one was used two years ago, while all the old rank-smelling ones have had to take a back seat."

"Then you personally recommend this preparation in preference to everything cles !"

"Most certainly I do, for when such careful and eminent physicians as Drs. Ranney, Lee, Janvrin, Wood, Hamilton, Mott, Guernsey, Helmuth, Watts and scores of others who have practical everyday experience with it are so enthusiastic in its praise, I am sure I am doing no more than my plain duty in adding my feeble te timony. And, what Is more satisfactory to me, I never yet have recommended it to one of my customers who was not pleased with its effect, and many have personally thanked me for introducing it to them."

That Tired Feeling

Everybody knows what "that tired feeeling" is. Itaffic the human family when the weather grows warmer in the Spring and early Summer, just as Nature, refreshed from her long Winter's rest, is preparing to display herself in new beauty and power. The contrast between the changing season and the condition of the body at this time makes one feel even more tired, despondent, and miserable. The refreshing toning and invigorating influences for which the system appeals will be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla, the reliable tonic and blood purifier.

G. W. MANLY, Canton, Ohio, says: "I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, and find itall you advertise it for, and I cheen ully recommend it to persons who are in want of a good blood purifier."

STRENGTHEN THE SYSTEM.

"I could not sleep and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appe-lite improved."—R. A. SANFORD, Kent. Ohio.
